Correction Enterprises wins award for annual report

RALEIGH – North Carolina Correction Enterprises has been chosen as the winner of the National Correctional Industries Association's 2012 Annual Report Award.

The Annual Report Award recognizes the prison industry that demonstrates excellence in design, content and in-house printing of its annual report. This prestigious award reflects commitment to excellence in the field of correctional industries.

The NCCE 2010 annual report, titled "The Hidden Resource," was nominated for this award. The committee that created the report included: Gail McLamb, Julie Williams, Beverly Sanders, Susan Powers, Mike Baldwin and Hans Norland. Inmates at the Nash Correctional Institutional Print Plant also assisted with the design, layout, printing and binding of the document.

The winning annual report can be found here:

A section of the N.C. Department of Public Safety, Correction Enterprises is the nation's second largest prison industry system based on annual sales. It is a self-supporting, quality driven business where about 2,100 inmates work in a variety of different industries at prison facilities across North Carolina. Inmates learn job skills in vocations that help them successfully return to the community after their incarceration
